

Utah Refugee Panel Event

Bridges To America, a Utah-based social impact company, is pleased to announce a special event to bring together the refugee and mainstream communities here in Utah.

We will be hosting a refugee panel of 4-5 local youth refugees this Friday evening, July 14th. The panel members will share their stories about coming to the USA and what life is like here for them. There will also be an opportunity for audience Q&A.

We are very fortunate to announce that Ahmed Badr, a former refugee from Iraq will be our guest and will moderate the panel. Ahmed is on a quest to bring people together, especially youth, through storytelling. His mission aligns beautifully with ours at BRIDGES.

“Every poem I write, every picture I capture, and every story I share is a personal letter to the bomb that visited my home nine years ago. I want to bring together individuals of seemingly opposing views and ideologies.”

The details of the event are as follows:

Time: Friday, July 14 7-8:30PM

Location: TBD

Cost: Free. Donations accepted.

You can learn more about Ahmed on his website:

<http://ambadr.com/#home> and <http://RefugeeSoccer.com> for more information.

Contact:

Adam Miles, Founder & Executive Director

Bridges To America, Inc.

M 415.203.3763

E adam@bridgestoamerica.org